Controversy Rages In Central Saanich

—Over Fire Department

Smouldering dissatisfaction within the ranks of the volunteer fire department of Central Saanich Municipality burst into flame last Wednesday evening, when the council's decision regarding the payment of travelling expenses to Fire Chief Vic Heal provided the spark.

At a previous meeting the council decided to vest the responsibility of fire permit issue and oil burner installation inspections in the full-time office staff. The indirect result, gaining council approval, was the curtailment of the $600 per annum expense account hitherto allowed the fire chief.

When chairman of the fire committee, Councillor R. M. Lamont, presented a prepared, tabulated brief opposing the action and explaining his reasons for casting a dissenting vote at the previous meeting, a heated exchange ensued between himself and Reeve Sydney Pickles.

The reeve was aiming to save money for the ratepayers, he asserted. Councillor Lamont stated that his concern was for the smooth-running of the fire department. The two legislators hotly expounded their opposing views.

The debate came to a close when Councillor W. W. Michell urged that the entire matter should be threshed out by the fire committee before coming up for discussion in the council meeting.

Councillor Lamont held a letter from the executive of the Firemen's Association, but refrained from reading it. Reference to the letter arose when the reeve observed that he had heard rumors of the firemen's planning to resign en masse but had received no official notification that all was not well in the department. Councillor Lamont noted that the

Deepest Section Of Trench Under Way

Deepest section of trench for the Sidney sewer project has been dug on Fifth St. The mountainous stack of fill removed from the trench forms an impenetrable barrier alongside the trench.

At this point the trench is 18 feet deep and has been shored up with timber as the digging progresses.

Result of the extensive digging at this point is the closing of Beacon Ave. to traffic. Vehicles are rerouted via Sixth St., Mount Baker Ave., Fifth St., and Sidney Ave. to avoid the construction work.

Who Stole Water?

From Sidney 60 Years Ago

Sidney old-timers are perplexed over a mystery of the past with which they have recently been confronted.

The story starts back in 1893, when the old Sidney Mill, where Mitchell & Anderson Lumber Co. now stands, required a good supply of water. A cast-iron two-inch water main was run from the present source of supply of Sidney Waterworks District to the mill. The pipe ran along East Saanich Road to approximately the site of the Brethour cemetery. It then angled across the field to the vicinity of the present home of Electrician Jack McLellan and then proceeded down the south side of Beacon Avenue to the mill.

The cast-iron pipe line was laid in 1893. At that time, The Review is informed, galvanized pipe was unknown.

Workmen digging the sewer excavation on Fifth Street into Beacon Avenue this week encountered the old cast-iron pipe. It was in sound condition. They cut it through to clear the passage. Inside the old pipe they found a half-inch galvanized pipe, which also had to be severed.

NEVER BE KNOWN?

Now when and why was the galvanized pipe placed inside the larger cast-iron one? Did some householder years ago surreptitiously insert it during hours of darkness to steal water from the owners of the main? The answers to these questions may never be known.

If the Royal Canadian Mounted Police are convinced that some theft of water took place 60 years

He's On Five Year Plan

Joe Bilgeri, Sidney milk distributor, formerly operated on a three-year plan. Now he's changed to a five-year plan.

In August, 1951, Mr. Bilgeri paid his subscription to The Review three years in advance. That brought it to August, 1954. He is still an enthusiastic reader of this modest journal.

Last week the milkman came to The Review office. On this occasion he paid five years in advance. "By the time my subscription is due again I will be eligible for my old-age pension," he explained. "I have just past my 65th birthday and will look to the government to provide funds for my subscription to The Review thereafter."

POLSON AT TOP OF FISH LADDER

Dick Polson jumped into the lead in the North Saanich Rod and Gun Club salmon derby this week when he boated a 32-pound salmon. Norman Shillito, whose 25-pound 11 ounce fish had been top weight to date, is now in second place.

Others in the running are: R. Hadley, 18 pounds; A. E. Cross, 17 1/2 pounds; Eric Ditlevson, 14 pounds; six ounces.

On Sunday, Aug. 29, the club will hold its strip casting derby for members only. The following Sunday will be featured the open derby.

ISLAND PIONEER FETED PRIOR TO DEPARTURE

Masses of flowers decorated Fulford Hall, Friday evening last, for the farewell surprise party for Mrs. M. C. Lee, who is truly a Salt Spring Islander, being born at Beaver Point and lived all her life in the community.

A beautiful corsage was given to the guest of honor upon arriving at the hall, and J. Grosart spoke briefly of the good work Mrs. Lee has always undertaken for the Island. He then presented her with a lovely mantle clock as a token of appreciation for the "service with a smile" rendered by her during past years.

Hudson Lee was the recipient of a smart lighter as a farewell gift. A happy time was enjoyed dancing, with A. D. Dane in charge of the musical selections.

Later, at supper, the guests of honor were asked to eat a beautifully decorated "surprise cake."

This memorable evening was arranged by a committee consisting of Mrs. R. Lee, Mrs. M. Gyves, Mrs. J. Campbell, W. Bridgen, F. Reid, A. D. Dane and J. Grosart.

No Threat of Walkout, Says Reeve Pickles

Threat of withdrawal of fire protection in Central Saanich is just, Reeve Sydney Pickles announced in a statement to The Review this week. The reeve is confident that the matter will be cleared up at a meeting of firemen and the fire committee slated for Tuesday of next week.

Reeve Pickles' statement follows: "Considerable misunderstanding and some anxiety has been created among Central Saanich residents by the threats of mass resignation by the volunteer fire department and the conditional resignation of Volunteer Fire Chief Victor Heal on September 15 next.

"Such resignations are most unlikely to occur. These threats arose after our council, in its judgment, decided to transfer certain inspection services to our municipal inspecting officer to give better service and greater protection to our residents. These changes may make it necessary to withdraw a $600 per year blanket expense payment to our volunteer fire chief. It is expected that the matter will be settled next week.

"As reeve, and as usual, I have come in for a lot of abuse and criticism from a few persons but a large number of our residents have complimented me for taking a firm stand on this matter.

"My efforts are, as always, directed to improve the operation of our municipality and as I am going to retire at the end of this year it is my desire to straighten out various minor kinks in our municipal administration and inspections are one of these. I hope thereby that my successor in office will not be troubled by the problems with which I have had to contend. It is surprising that all this 'bull-bull' has arisen over these proposed inspection

Michell Leaves Employ

—Of Council

Resignation of Works Superintendent T. G. Michell of Central Saanich was accepted with regret at a special meeting of the council on Wednesday evening last week. Mr. Michell stated in his resignation that he was not satisfied with the salary under his classification as district foreman and called for payment as general foreman, with its increased rate of about $40 per month.

In view of the fact the superintendent was not satisfied and that this was the second occasion upon which he had submitted his resignation, the works committee had recommended that the resignation be accepted.

Councillor P. E. Warren observed that he would have welcomed the appearance of Mr. Michell before a decision was made.

The onus of appearing rested entirely with the employee, replied Reeve Sydney Pickles. "There must be some reason why we have had so many resignations among our municipal staff," suggested Councillor W. W. Michell, who withdrew during the discussion of his brother's resignation.

Noting that he was making no suggestion of any improper state of affairs in the present instance, the reeve commented that councillors and employees should not be related. "It should be brought out in the Municipal Act," he said, "Councillor-employee relationship is a very improper state of affairs."

"I took no part in his engagement," Councillor Michell reminded the reeve.

West Road Limit Is Approved

Speed limit of 30 m.p.h. is to be imposed on West Saanich Road in the vicinity of the Brentwood shopping area.

A recommendation to the Central Saanich council was made last week by Central Saanich Chamber of Commerce. The chamber asked for the speed limit between Stellys Cross Road and Marchants Road.

Councillor R. M. Lamont observed that only a section of that length of road was congested and that the order should read to Wallace Drive.

"It is unfortunate that we have to have restrictions on these roads," commented Reeve Sydney Pickles, "but there is no way out."

The council authorized the restriction, which will be made through the provincial government.

FILM SHOW TO DEPICT COURT

Film depicting the operation of a courtroom in a rural area will be featured at the social evening planned by the Sidney Community Club in the old Sidney school on Friday evening, Aug. 27, at 8 o'clock.

The film, "Country Magistrate", was made on Vancouver Island. The club has invited parents and other adults to attend the showing.

The evening will also be marked by dancing and refreshments.

VISITORS TO ISLAND

Eric Martin Commends Mayne Fair

Hon. Eric Martin, B.C. minister of health, and John D. Tisdalle, Saanich M.L.A., were given a warm welcome to Mayne Island on Thursday of last week on the occasion of the annual fall fair. The former officially opened the exhibition.

Mayne Island residents in substantial numbers met the cabinet minister and discussed transportation and electrical problems with him. Mr. Martin assured them that the B.C. government would do all in its power to assist the islanders.

In officially opening the exhibition, the minister spoke as follows: "Ladies and gentlemen, it is indeed a pleasure that I have been given the opportunity of being with you today on the occasion of your annual fall fair.

"In a good fair there is more keen, honest rivalry and practical education than in any other public affair, and today as never before, the exhibitions and fairs scattered over all parts of British Columbia are wielding a tremendous influence on the lives and progress of the people of this province.

MRS. J. W. BRETHOUR

Some 30 relatives and friends gathered at the Victoria home of Mrs. James Wesley Brethour on Sunday to celebrate her 90th birthday. Mrs. Brethour was in good health and enjoyed the day to the full.

Saanich Pioneer Society was represented by Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Nimmo, of Saanichton.

Mrs. Brethour was born in Scotland and came to Canada at an early age. She was a member of the well-known McLennan family of Beaver Point, Salt Spring Island.

For many years she lived in Sidney with her late husband, who owned all the property from the sea along Beacon Avenue and half way to Henry Avenue.

The aged lady is bright and alert. Her memory is good and she recalls many details of the early days of Sidney.

She resides at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Campbell, 1238 Palmer Road, Saanich.

GRATIFYING RESPONSE FROM FIRE FIGHTERS

Response to civil defense by firemen of Central Saanich and North Saanich has been gratifying, stated Civil Defense Co-ordinator Ray M. Lamont, this week.

When the civil defense authorities recently circulated a pumper truck through the area, giving instruction on various aspects of fire-fighting in the light of civil defense, volunteers were invited to enrol with the department.

All members of Sidney and North Saanich departments enrolled as civil defense fire-fighters.

The total enrolment from the Greater Victoria Mutual Aid Area, covering the departments of Sooke, Metcheson, Central Saanich and Sidney with Ganges, was 88.

The corresponding figure from the target area, including the City of Victoria, Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt, with Langford and Colwood, was 42.

FORMER RESIDENT OF SIDNEY PASSES

A former resident of Sidney and a relative of the pioneer Brethour family here, Colin Campbell McKenzie of Quesnel, B.C., passed away in Vancouver on August 21. He last visited here at the time of Sidney's 60th birthday celebration three years ago.

The deceased was a regular subscriber to The Review and always followed the progress of this community with keen interest. Burial was in the Masonic cemetery, Burnaby.

NEW STOP SIGNS

Stop signs have been placed on Sidney Ave. and Mount Baker Ave. at Fourth St. in Sidney by the village commission. There were formerly no controls on these crossings.

Two Municipalities To Gain Aid From Grants

—Subject To Contribution

Assistance from an unexpected source will aid the purchase of contemplated equipment by Central Saanich and Sidney volunteer fire departments.

Civil Defense Co-ordinator R. M. Lamont told The Review this week that his organization will contribute one-third of the cost of equipment purchased by either of the departments in the near future, up to a maximum grant of $1,000 to each municipality.

The grants are made up of one-sixth from the federal government, one-sixth from the provincial government and the remaining two-thirds is carried by the local municipality. The equipment may be of any kind that will be used in times of peace as well as war.

Listed under the general heading of special items, the equipment under the plan will be provided by the federal and provincial governments under the matching funds program.

FURTHER ALLOCATION

In addition to the assistance offered for the purchase of new equipment, the civil defense financial assistance program for 1954-5 has allocated $800 to each of Sidney and Central Saanich municipalities as a basic grant. This includes funds for personal services, travel, equipment (not included in the special items), supplies and materials, rent and utility services. The municipalities concerned are required to meet the $800 grant with a $200 allowance for the same scheme.

The basic allowance is made to provide funds for the organization and administration of civil defense, training programs and their needs, purchase of operational equipment for which no other use can be made, other than civil defense in time of war or disaster, and the modification of offices and other units for use by the civil defense authorities.

The funds allowed in the above schedules will only be made available upon receipt of an assurance by the municipalities concerned that there will be an adequate allowance in the budget to meet the municipality's share.

Arrangements for unorganized territory will be announced at a later date, stated Mr. Lamont, co-ordinator for Greater Victoria Mutual Aid Area.

Wharfinger Is Appointed Here

Marcel Chappuis, well known Sidney resident, has been appointed wharfinger at the Sidney federal government wharf. The Review is informed by Keith Dixon of Victoria, district marine agent of the department of transport. The appointment was made under authority of the Government Harbors and Piers Act.

Mr. Chappuis, in his capacity as wharfinger, is expected to carry out the instructions contained in "Government Harbors and Piers Act and Regulations". This official publication sets out the tariff of tolls and dues leviable at the wharf on the owners of vessels which stop at the Sidney wharf.

A large number of wharves on the Pacific coast are controlled by wharfingers in the same manner as that at Sidney, The Review learns.

Narrow Escape For Sewer Worker

During the trenching operation on Fifth St. for the Sidney sewer project, James Mason, Beacon Ave., employed by the contractors, experienced a narrow escape from serious injury.

While working in the trench Mr. Mason was buried up to the neck as the sides of the trench caved in. He was uninjured and was promptly freed from his position.

Saanich Fair Bids For Bigger Attendance

Disposition of Saanich Fair will take the same form this year as in previous years. The Agricultural Hall at Saanichton will house the exhibits of household arts, fruits and vegetables, in company with other small items.

In the grounds will be staged the showing of livestock, including sheep, cattle, poultry, rabbits, pigs, horses and others. There will be a demonstration of agricultural equipment and the grounds will also feature entertainment of considerable variety. Midway will be directed by Sidney Rotary Club.

The target of the sponsors, North and South Saanich Agricultural Society, is a bigger fair with greater attendance, as the Class B category comes ever closer.

New departure in the field of livestock this year will be the reinstatement of the Ayrshire cattle section. Two exhibitors from up-island will show cattle straight from the P.N.E. in Vancouver.

SHEEP SECTION

Emphasis is also placed this year on the sheep section as farmers are sharply aware of this aspect of farming on Saanich Peninsula.

The fair will operate on the Saturday preceding Labor Day, Sept. 4 and on Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 5.

6. Horse show will be staged on both days, with the Highland dancing events expected to draw considerable attendance on the Monday.

A repetition of the successful children's fancy dress parade, which was introduced last year, will be staged on Labor Day.

Progressive improvements to the grounds have been undertaken during the year to house the additional attractions.

Henry G. Robinson, manager of the Vancouver Island Dairymen's Association, anticipates problems in the allocation of locations for the expected increased entries in the cattle section.

Entries are starting to come in. Secretary A. C. Howe, Saanichton, will not be inundated until show day draws a little closer.

LEAGUE FOR BOWLERS IS PROJECTED

For many years bowlers from Central Saanich and the Sidney area have enjoyed this sport in substantial numbers at Gibson's Bowldrome on Port St. in Victoria. This year, The Review is informed, a movement is on foot to organize bowlers from these areas of the Peninsula into leagues to add to the enjoyment of players.

It is considered likely that a Central Saanich-Sidney league can be formed, embracing both men and women. League play at Gibson's will get under way right after Labor Day. Those interested are asked to contact the management of the Bowldrome.

If leagues are formed, results of the games will be carried as a regular feature in The Review.

DEEP COVE CLUB STAGES PICNIC AT FARM GROUND

A most enjoyable picnic was held by the Deep Cove Community Club on August 21 at the Experimental Farm. Guests of the club were members of the North Saanich Service Club.

During the afternoon, races were enjoyed by young and old alike. The prize for the child winning the most points was awarded to Billy Stewart; the adult prize was won by Mrs. Tripp. These prizes took the form of small silver cups and were admired by all.

The men enjoyed horseshoe pitching during the afternoon and the prizes for this event were won by J. Redwood and Mr. Elvin. Chocolate bars and candy suckers were given as prizes for each race.

A very pleasant feature of the afternoon was a presentation to Mr. and Mrs. J. Morris of a gift of reverer ware on the occasion of their recent marriage. Both are popular members of the club, and were wished much happiness by all present. J. C. Erickson, club president, made the presentation.

A baseball game was enjoyed after supper by all present, both players and spectators. Mr. Erickson's Dodgers defeated Mr. McClennan's Yankees by the score of 18-16. This event brought a most enjoyable picnic to a close.

Proof against RAIN and REVELLERS

ANYONE who ever visited London knows Piccadilly Circus, and the famous statue of Eros, God of Love, poised above its central fountain. This statue has taken a lot of punishment during the past sixty years, from both practical jokers and London smog. But because the sculptor cast it in aluminum — it was the first large statue to be cast in the "new metal" — it has come safely through the years. When it was cleaned up for the Coronation, it gleamed as freshly as ever. The enduring beauty of aluminum has meanwhile made it a favorite of modern architects, furniture designers, decorators too. CARNIVAL DAY AT DEEP COVE YIELDS $66

Approximately $66 was realized on Saturday afternoon and evening, Aug. 14, when the Deep Cove Athletic committee staged a carnival day in Watson Smith's field on Madrona Drive.

Home-cooking confections and a chicken dinner raffle were in evidence with M. Perry, Madrona Drive, holding the winning ticket.

In the afternoon the Deep Cove midgets' softball team defeated Brentwood midgets, 22-9. Treat tickets were dispensed to all players. Another softball game included young and old players in the late afternoon.

Modern and square dancing was enjoyed during the evening under the floodlights provided by Mr. Smith, to the recorded music supplied by J. J. Sims, Madrona Drive. Proceeds of the affair will be devoted to youth activities in Deep Cove.

SOUNDS DOOM OF EARWIGS

Here's a tip on ear-wig control from A. E. Johnson, well known Mills Road gardener:

"When straining off water from cabbage or cauliflower, do so into a three-inch dish with smooth inside and place where you know the ear-wigs are thick in weeds or plants or place a few bits of sticks so they can crawl up and drop in the dish, which should be only half full. They only come out at night and have a keen sense of smell. I have done this on two occasions and the water was well covered the next morning."

So much for ear-wigs.

CENTRAL SAANICH HEARS PLEA

Cause of one of the most heated exchanges heard in Central Saanich council chamber for three years was the submission by Councillor R. M. Lamont of his reasons for failing to support a motion by the council at a previous meeting.

Councillor Lamont gave 10 reasons for voting against the proposal to concentrate the authority for all fire, gas and oil permits in one man, P. F. Lomas, building inspector, and a permanent employee of the municipality.

With his tabulated remarks on the problems facing the fire department Councillor Lamont, chairman of the fire committee, submitted a recommendation that the council should rescind a previous motion and maintain the former system whereby the fire chief, V. G. Heal, was responsible for the issue of fire permits and all inspections.

TABULATED PLEA

Following is the tabulated plea of Councillor Lamont:

1. The three services affected come under the office of the Fire Marshall.

2. The Central Saanich Fire Chief is the deputy fire marshal and any other officer would have to come as an assistant to the deputy.

3. There is more to this position than meets the eye, as there are rigid rules and regulations enforced by the fire underwriters that the assistant must know.

4. When you get too far down the line, who is responsible for the errors—the issuing officer, the assistant to the deputy fire marshal, the deputy fire marshal, or the municipality?

5. From the financial standpoint, the council is very near-sighted to my mind, because, where we have a municipally owned and equipped fire department, but manned by volunteer personnel, saving us several thousand dollars in wages, we should be glad to have an officer handle the fire, oil burner and gas inspections, for a $600 annual travelling expense fee.

6. The fire chief, like the rest of the 30 fire personnel, spends many hundreds of hours annually doing fire duties that we don't even know about.

7. The employers of these men permit the absence from work on demand of the fire alarm and call it community service.

8. Therefore, I say the responsibility should stay in the hands of the deputy fire marshal, as the fire-

The class is not listed in the prize list as it was announced too late for printing.

A modification in the prize offered under Section 524 (best light cake) has also been announced. First prize will be a hamper of groceries to the value of $6 and the second prize a similar hamper to the value of $4.

men concerned have to make the run if the need arises.

9. As for the convenience of the public, the council saw fit to make it pretty stiff for the hunter in season without batting an eye, which is no more serious than fire.

10. There is a letter on file from the firemen's association, asking for a travelling expense account of $50 per month, payable to the fire chief, which the council agreed to meet, and entails all duties of the fire chief.

letter had been addressed to himself personally as chairman of the fire committee. He decided not to present it to the council until it had been discussed in committee.

His decision resulted in the withdrawal of Fireman Andy Johnson, in protest. Mr. Johnson had already asked for permission to speak and had been told by the speaker that his opportunity to do so would come later. When Councillor Lamont announced that the letter would be held over, he stated that if the council did not intend to discuss it there was no point in his remaining.

MORE WORK?

First disagreement between the two debaters occurred when the reeve suggested that members of a volunteer fire department outside an incorporated area had more to do than a municipal volunteer service.

"In your mind, Mr. Reeve," retorted Councillor Lamont, "Reeve Pickles called for order from the spectators when he re-asserted his view."

"I am trying to do my best for the ratepayers," noted the reeve at another point. "I am going to retire at the end of the year and I am not seeking votes."

"I am not catering to popularity," quietly retorted Councillor Lamont. He emphasized that the views he had expressed in his statement were his own and had not been discussed with any third party.

It was unfortunate that the matter had come to council discussion before being presented to the fire committee, suggested Councillor W. W. Mitchell. Why had he not been informed of the urgency of the matter before the previous council meeting? he asked. He was informed that there had been no warning of the sudden introduction of the controversial issue.

BETTER SO

It was later agreed by all members of the council that the firemen's communication was better handled in committee.

In the complaints of the firemen were inadequacy of the equipment provided by the council. It was argued that insufficient funds were voted for the department by the council at the time of the budget. Councillor Mitchell had cast a dissentient vote at that time on the grounds that neither the fire department nor the works department had been allotted sufficient funds.

A meeting of the fire committee on Thursday resulted in the decision to call a joint meeting of the committee and the firemen's association for Tuesday of this week.

PARLEY PLANNED FOR PARKING PROBLEM HERE

Meeting is planned between Central Saanich Police Commission, council and operators of boat-houses in the vicinity of Beach Drive.

The parley was planned at a special meeting of Central Saanich council on Wednesday evening last week, when the commission reported considerable difficulties prevailing in the matter of parking in the area of those boat-houses. The occasions of fishing derbies and week-ends were cited as the problem times.

It was suggested that the group of operators was contemplating the purchase of property for use as a car park in the area.

The recommendation for consideration of the problem came from the police commission. The commission also recommended that the issue of burning permits be made without recourse to the police department. This was also approved by the council.

CUSTOMS OUTHOUSE OF SIDNEY?

SOME months ago The Review, in this column, asked a number of questions regarding international travel in this district. We asked for figures on the numbers of arrivals and departures to and from the United States from Sidney and North Saanich in relation to other customs centres on the Pacific Coast. Nothing but a stony silence has greeted our respectful inquiry.

Our point was that other centres, where amount of international travel is pitifully small, are served by customs ports. Although a customs building is located in Sidney and staffed by courteous civil servants, Sidney is not a customs port. Neither is it even a sub-port. Frankly we don't know what it is. No one else seems to know either, so we don't feel too badly about our lack of knowledge. It may be an outpost or it may be an outhouse. Its true status is veiled in complete mystery.

So we've got another suggestion to our customs friends in Ottawa. We suggest to them that more American yachts arrive in Canada and depart from this Dominion at Sidney than at all other points in western Canada combined. We may be wrong in this contention—but if we are wrong we're certain that the customs authorities will make the true figures available. If they don't we're going to assume that our statement is true.

And, if it is true, we expect Ottawa to take sensible action in this regard. Sidney should long ago have been a self-accounting customs port. Today it's not even a sub-port.

The Review is fully aware of the old adage which says: "If we haven't suffered enough, it is our God-given privilege to suffer some more." Ottawa should know, however, that residents of this district are now thoroughly convinced that we've suffered enough.

NOTHING WRONG WITH IT

NOT so very long ago we had the privilege of listening to an address by British Columbia's new minister of education, Hon. Ray Williston. This column said at the time that we were much impressed with the calibre of the minister. We find our respect for him growing because we agree with his announced stand with regard to bus transportation for school children in this province.

Mr. Williston, in effect, says that too many pupils in the past have been transported at public expense to and from school. He has directed school boards to let more children walk to school. Those residing in districts fairly close to schools will be required in future to find their own way there. We agree with this policy completely.

We go one stage further, too. The Review is convinced that everything which affects the public purse should be reviewed and reduced where possible. It's definitely a time to spend less money on non-essentials of all kinds.

CURIOUS SENTENCE

A VERY reputable Victoria daily newspaper last week carried a story of a police court case which we read with passing interest. It explained that a magistrate had found an accused guilty of some offence and had sentenced him to a prison term. An option was provided, however. If the convicted man would go to church every Sunday for a specified time, he would not have to go to jail. He was required to visit the police station every Monday with a certificate from a clergyman that he had attended church the previous day. The accused chose to attend church rather than go to jail.

This is a very modern age and our thinking today isn't what it was 50 years ago. But we're positive that our pious ancestors in the backwoods of Ontario would turn over in their graves if they learned that a convicted man today was being punished either by going to prison or to church.

The sermons of those days lasted at least an hour. Today they are frequently stream-lined to only 10 or 15 minutes. We're certain that our accused friend is delighted that they have been shortened while he sits there expiating his crime against society.

The magistrate's ruling may alter the architecture of future churches. They used to have sections for lepers. Then there was the penitents' bench. In future there may be the penal section in modern churches.

We devoutly hope that the accused in this case will benefit by his "punishment" and never appear in police court again.

Letters To The Editor

WEED CONTROL

Editor, Review,

Sir:
Here is an open letter to the farming fraternity of Saanich Peninsula. The question of noxious weeds has become an outstanding issue for the whole Peninsula, and unless drastic action is taken speedily, the consequences will be extreme.

I allude particularly to the weeds which seeds fly. First and foremost is Canada Thistle, which is not indigenous or native to Canada, but an importation from Europe many decades ago. This is very difficult to eradicate, being a perennial with a root system known to penetrate the soil to a depth of 10 feet. Another flying importation is Salsify from France, a biennial, now drifting from Victoria where it is abundant. Then there is the Bull Thistle and Holy Thistle. Another pest is the Sow Thistle, which, owing to our wet winters, does not persist.

Bind Weed (Morning Glory) both pink and white blossomed are prevalent and persistent. False Flax is another persistent pest as well as the Clover parasite Dodder.

The municipalities on the Peninsula have by-laws against noxious weeds which are really a joke, as no weed inspectors exist, and the by-laws are never enforced, unless some neighbor of an offender lodges a complaint, and then all that is done seed has formed. As for Canada Thistle, the more it is cultivated or hoed, the better it grows. There is a male and female, and the seed of the female can reproduce both male or female, while the roots of both spread under ground.

In the State of Oregon, Canada Thistle became so prevalent that action had to be taken. The advent of chemical sprays makes control comparatively easy for all weeds in uncultivated tracts. For example, three pounds of sodium chlorate used June 27, with a five-gallon re-spray August 15, made a 100 per cent kill. On cultivated land, the simplest method of eradication is to seed down to grass, and in the summer spray to kill the weeds. A resume of the Oregon State law follows:

"Individuals, municipalities, counties or states are required to observe the law, and failure to comply with the law will result in fines for each offence, varying from $10 to $100. If by the time the weeds have already formed seed, the courts request the state department to quarantine such land, and prevent the movement of livestock or crops from the place, threatening machinery, tools and other farm machinery shall not be moved from any farm, until such implements are thoroughly cleaned. No hay or straw containing noxious weed seed may be moved to non-infected farms."

Reflections From the Past

10 YEARS AGO

Jauncey Barclay, age 12, of East Saanich Road, was the victim of an accident on Tuesday afternoon. The young girl was struck by a bus outside the Dominion Experimental Station. The girl was rushed to the R.C.A.F. hospital at Patricia Bay in a service ambulance. The victim is reported to be suffering from severe head injuries. She has been removed to St. Joseph's hospital in Victoria.

Wing Commander Douglas K. Wilson, Calgary, who has recently been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Keith Wilson, Vesuvius Bay, has purchased 125 acres overlooking Ganges, on the Cranberry Road. The properties were formerly owned by H. W. Bullock, A. W. Drake and T. W. Mount.

Mrs. R. Adams has left for her home in Vancouver after spending three weeks as the guest of Mrs. D. Cousineau at Pender Island.

Complaints are being investigated by the Sidney detachment of the B.C. Police regarding wilful damage on the butts of Barrow Range. The Pacific Coast Militia Rangers will pay a reward for information leading to the conviction of the vandals responsible. It is believed that ments must display on some part of their equipment, copies of the noxious weed laws. All seeds or mixtures of seed containing nine seeds per pound of Canada Thistle may not be offered for sale and in cases they contain any White Top, Leafy Spurge or Russian Knapweed, may not be offered for sale at all.

Bathing trunks were not accepted wear until around 1933 or 1934.

SEWERS AND SIDEWALKS

Editor, Review,

Sir:

I wish to reply to your remarks in your editorial regarding sidewalk construction was laid down for 1954 and at first it was thought that this could be proceeded with.

The normal method of municipal work in a lot of municipalities is to pave a road and lay the sidewalks, then come along and tear up the road and sidewalks to put in a sewer.

The commissioners, however, decided that the business-like way would be to leave the sidewalks until the sewers were completed, as the connections to the property line will have to go under the sidewalks (or where the sidewalk would be) and to have to tunnel under these sidewalks would take away the foundation of the walk and in a year or two probably cause it to crack or sink several inches.

I feel sure that the public will realize that the commissioners did the sensible thing in postponing the sidewalk program.

The money for sidewalks this year is being kept on one side and will not be used for any other purpose.

May I take this opportunity to thank the ratepayers for their wonderful co-operation in making their applications for the sewer connections.

A. W. SHARP,
Village Clerk.

GUINEA PIG

Editor, Review,

Sir,

I have been outspoken in my criticism of the published policy of the B.C. government with regard to school buses, and have been accused of playing politics and of carping criticism.

Before coming to Victoria I taught in Armstrong, the centre of Armstrong-Spallumcheen consolidated school district, one of the oldest and largest in B.C. Here, for about 30 years, between 80 and 60 per cent of the pupils have been brought to school by bus over routes which may be as long as 30 miles. I have some acquaintance with the problems arising from bus transportation.

I have suggested the following investigation of the regulation requiring children living 2 1/2 to 3 miles from school to walk, using Royal Oak school as the "guinea pig".

I prepare a map of the three-mile area with Royal Oak school as the centre.

Reflections From the Past

the culprits are youths of the district. Freight company whose roots lie in the old V. & S. Railway has incorporated in Sidney. Sidney Freight Service Ltd. has a capital of $20,000. Directors are Roy Brethour, Herman Shade, J. G. Mitchell and J. C. Anderson. Mr. Mitchell is managing director of the new company and the registered offices are in the building of Mitchell and Anderson Lumber Co. Ltd.

Total now received from the Red Cross fete, dance and raffles at Mayne Island is $365, which figure has broken all records.

Commissions for Pilot Officers John G. S. Morton and Sidney G. Pickett, R.C.A.F., have been announced by Western Air Command. The wives of both officers reside in Sidney.

20 YEARS AGO

J. B. Knowles, Carnesey Dairy, was attacked by a bull on Monday at his Sidney home. Mr. Knowles was walking across his own property when the bull charged throwing him into a barbed wire fence. He is recovering at home from bruises and abrasions.

A chimney sweep from Victoria will be visiting Sidney on Thursday and Friday and all householders will enjoy the opportunity of availing themselves of his services.

Rev. W. A. Alexander, for the past two years pastor at Pender Island United Church, plans to retire from his active ministry. Accompanied by Mrs. Alexander and his sister, Miss Grace Sherman, he will leave next week to take up permanent residence in Vancouver.

Letter to the editor... may I offer suggestion... at the end of Bazen Ave. is deep water. A cement wall, or failing the cash, a rock wall on both sides of the road (would be needed) to keep it tidy.

The public would be required to burn all garbage and only non-decaying junk would be put in this central place.

When staying in Vancouver visit the Hotel... Rates from $1.50 per day.

A colorful ceremony was featured at Rest Haven hospital on Monday evening when five graduates of the hospital's nursing school were awarded their diplomas. Taking part were Miss P. Worman, Mrs. C. C. Kemsley, Miss R. Stickle, E. W. Chapman, A. K. Elvedahl, Pastor J. W. McNeill, Dr. H. G. Burden, Mrs. C. F. Courser and H. A. Shepard.

2. On this map mark the roads and highways along which school children must go to reach the school.

3. For each road and highway find the number of children who will be on it between 8 and 9 a.m. and 3 to 4 p.m. en route to or from school.

4. Get the department of public works to institute a traffic count for each road and highway for the same two hours each day.

If it is felt that one test case is not sufficient, a similar check should be made with the other district 63 schools. Also, interior schools with transportation problems (I have some personal acquaintance with those of Armstrong, Rutland and Westbank, having taught in these schools) should be made the subject of similar studies. Such investigations would show whether my criticism is justified or not.

It is silly to talk of conditions in the old days, those conditions no longer exist. I walked three or four miles to school with my brothers and sisters 30 years ago in Alberta. But conditions are different today. Traffic is heavier and moves at higher speeds. Schools are larger and there are many more pupils en route to school. And the walk home at night—it is the pupil who needs the ride most who is dropped two miles from his home. That walk, after perhaps a 15-mile ride on the bus, is a different proposition from a walk of an equivalent distance direct from school 20 years or so ago.

If there were buses under the existing system, and there were some, these can and should be met individually and corrected. A blanket ruling such as this may remove existing abuses but it creates a whole new series of abuses and problems.

Last year the council sent Scoutmaster Freeman King and Assistant Scoutmaster Roy Tuttle to the same course. Dr. Wm. Following the extended recent dry spell the operators of the Sidney Mill have inaugurated a fire brigade to guard against fire hazards. The brigade consists of a chief and 24 captains. First practise alarm was sounded this week, when the crews reported to their posts with a minimum of delay. Residents of Sidney turned out to the alarm and were pleasantly surprised to find that there was no fire.

In a report on the death of Mrs. Florence Batt, Pender Island, last week the name of her daughter was inadvertently listed as Mrs. Geefs. This should have read, Mrs. Geeshuizen, of Allison, Ont.

The Review's Book Review

"Tomorrow," by Philip Wylie; Rinehart. $3.50.

Civil defence is an accepted facet of modern life. Every citizen knows that the nation is prepared for the possible eventualities of war. Many are now enrolled in the various departments of civil defence.

F. G. Richards

This is the somewhat lurid picture of a future war which takes the United States by surprise. The twin cities of River City and Green Prairie are the twins of legend converted to people. The one is all that could be asked of a community in the matter of civil defense. At every practice alarm the citizens take to the shelter and every man, woman and child knows what to do and what not to do.

The other is the evil twin. Frittering away the time in riotous living, the residents of the city have no time and little sympathy for the problems of civil defense. In the company of many a fable provided with a sound moral, Tomorrow is slightly more than real. The enlightened are more than usually so and the powers of darkness prevailing in the uninformed circles are black indeed.

The story is the sensational presentation of total war in the atomic age. It is the picture of the American continent under the impact of war. Intended as a caution to those who take civil defense too casually, it is a vivid picture of what could well happen to a city under the concentrated attack of an enemy power armed with atomic weapons.

Running through the story is the necessary plot to hold the reader to the message within the tale. Only a survivor of Hiroshima could offer an enlightened criticism of the immediate accompaniment to such an explosion as is envisaged. To the layman it is real enough and likely enough to pass for the real thing.

The moral is that, irrespective of the nature of the explosive used in an air-raid the survivors are responsible for the repair and maintenance of the community. Civil defense is an essential service, as it was in Europe a few years ago.—F.G.R.

ENTRIES BELOW RECORD

AS MAYNE ISLAND FAIR PROSPERS

Mayne Island Horticultural Society held its eighth annual fall fair on Thursday, Aug. 19, in the community hall, and were favored with the one really fine day of the week.

The total number of entries was about 100 from the record total of 1953 but was above 1952, in spite of a drop in population of 60.

Exhibits were of high quality in all divisions and this was especially noticeable in the cooking section in which the judge stated there was not a poor quality exhibit.

The horticultural and floral sections clearly showed the effect of the cold late summer, only the classes for African violets and house plants obtaining the usual amount of entries.

The bright spot was undoubtedly the needlework and knitting section where almost every kind of sweater was on exhibition. In the arts and crafts there were some fine exhibits of pictures done in needlepoint and some wool rugs which attracted much attention.

The fair was opened with the singing of "O Canada" and "God Save the Queen", and an address by the Hon. Eric Martin who was followed by J. D. Tisdale, M.L.A. for Saanich. Mr. Johnson, B.C. Fairs Association secretary, was also present.

Judging was done by Alan Little of the department of agriculture and by Miss Allan and Miss Gibbard of Vancouver handling the domestic science sections. Tea and ice cream were served with Mrs. Audrey Gilman in charge of the kitchen and Mrs. Alice Deacon heading the waitresses.

SUFFERS INJURY IN FALL AT HOME

Mrs. Flora M. Lee, aged 83, of Galiano Island, suffered a fractured hip when she fell in her bedroom late on Sunday of last week. Fortunately the elderly lady was not alone, her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Channing Hawkins, having arrived to visit her earlier that day.

Mr. Hawkins obtained help and Mrs. Lee was taken to Victoria via Salt Spring Island, where she is making satisfactory progress at the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Her many friends wish the active, cheerful little lady a speedy recovery.

DEATH CLAIMS ACTIVE GANGES BUSINESSMAN AND PIONEER

Salt Spring Island sustained the loss of one of its earliest residents recently in the passing of Frank Lewis Scott whose death, in his 79th year, took place on August 14 in the Veterans' Hospital, Victoria.

Born in Bradford, England, Mr. Scott came to B.C. in 1894 and joined his brother, the late Geoffrey Scott, at Ganges Harbour, where he went in for farming. At the beginning of the nineteen-hundreds he followed the trail of '98 to the Yukon and on his return to the island he took up his former occupation until the outbreak of the First Great War, for which he left with the R.C.A., spent three years overseas and received a commission.

Soon after his return, again in partnership with his brother, who predeceased him only five months ago, he went in for flower and bulb growing, establishing the well known business of Scott Bros. In his earlier days he took an active interest in politics and the affairs of the island and since its inception has been President of the Salt Spring Island Trading Co.

Surviving are his wife, Kathleen, at home; a daughter, Beryl (Mrs. C. A. Weatherell), North Galiano; two grandsons, David and Kenny Weatherell, North Galiano; one niece, Miss Maud I. Scott, Ganges; and one nephew, Douglas Forbes Scott, Beverly Hills, California.

Funeral services were held on Thursday, Aug. 19, at St. George's Church, Ganges, Rev. C. S. Coldwell officiating. Mrs. V. C. Best was at the organ and the congregation joined in singing the Twenty-third Psalm and the hymns, "Peace, Perfect Peace" and "Abide With Me".

Numerous beautiful floral tributes were received and many mourners followed the flag-draped casket to St. Mark's Cemetery, where interment took place. Pallbearers were Kenneth Butterfield, V. Case Morris, F. A. E. Morris, Gavin C. Mount, T. F. Speed, Stanley J. Wagg.

Wise Gardener

Notes From Saanich Experimental Station

Pickling cucumbers are quite easily grown in the average garden, but are frequently overlooked when planting time comes around.

When cucumbers are desired specifically for pickling, it is advisable to select a pickling variety. These are smaller, somewhat thicker and rougher on the surface, usually lighter in color, earlier and more productive than the slicing varieties. Furthermore, they are usually black spined, rather than white, like slicing varieties.

In harvesting pickling cucumbers, the main consideration is the type of pickle desired. If the cucumbers are to be made into small, whole pickles, harvesting must be done every one or two days. If the interval is longer the cucumbers will become too large, and they will reach full size in approximately four days.

If the cucumbers are for dills or chop pickles, a four-day interval between pickings is about right. At this interval, the greatest weight of pickling cucumbers is obtained, but the total number will be far below that for the shorter interval harvesting.

It is important to know that any cucumbers left on the vine to mature will drastically reduce the crop of pickle-size fruits. For that reason, be sure to take off every cucumber, even though there may be one or two which have become too large. Where cucumbers for slicing are required, one or two plants of a slicing variety such as Marketeer will produce ample fruits for the average family.

There have been a number of new varieties in the last few years. Several are under trial at the experimental station this season. Green Thumb is one which appears to have promise. It has the advantage of a darker green skin color than the average pickling variety. The standard variety, however, introduced many years ago for its regular shape, vigor and productivity is National Pickling.

BRAMBLES

Various bramble varieties have again been fruiting in plots at the station.

Several of these are hybrid blackberries of wild Dewberry (blackberry) parentage. Flavour and quality of these are quite different from those of the European blackberry to which the Himalaya belongs.

In many ways they have a more attractive quality and are fine for jams or for canning as is the loganberry. The logan belongs to this same hybrid group. Okallie has a fine attractive large berry that is firm and handles well for market. Cascade and Pacific are better known but are softer. Chehalis is another named variety of this group from Oregon and should be tested widely.

Another berry unnamed (Oregon 742) is probably the best of all in quality, is a bit soft for handling but excellent for home use. These berries are a valuable acquisition to the small group of brambles (blackberries) being generally grown.

The boysenberry also belongs to the same group and while it is a grand berry for deep-freeze and jam its yields have been very disappointing. Plants of some of these varieties are not yet available through the trade but tips have been supplied in recent years to a few growers for trial and will gradually become distributed.

MAYNE

Mayne Island Fall Fair is over and although there were not so many entries, due to our reduced population, still the judges considered the general standard as very satisfactory and quite up to the mark. Everybody seemed pleased with the event and there were many visitors from off this island whom we made welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Murrell have their son, John, and his younger boy, Robin, from Chilliwack, over for a few days.

Mrs. Annie Deacon and her grandson, Freddie, have gone to Campbell River to the wedding of her granddaughter, Pat Hobden.

Mrs. Worthington returned this past week from her holidays spent chiefly in Vancouver with her mother and sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Morson have the former's father and two of their grandchildren staying with them this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Horton were over for the fall fair from Sidney and took the latter's mother, Mrs. grandchildren staying with them this stay while Mr. Higgenbottom is in hospital.

BROOMS

Keep the brooms clean by dipping them for a minute or two into boiling soap suds. If this is done once a week, it will keep them tough and flexible and will prove a saving in both rugs and brooms.

MERRY-GO-ROUND IS MOVED

RAIN NECESSITATES INDOOR SHOW AT GANGES

The Merry-Go-Round, sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Salt Spring branch of the Canadian Legion and planned to take place at Rainbow Beach had, owing to the constant rainfall, to be hurriedly transferred to the Mahon Hall and all previous out of door attractions abandoned.

The general convener, Mrs. Adrian Wolfe-Milner, assistant co-conveners Mrs. T. A. Milner and Mrs. Lewis Parham and hard working committees made the best of existing conditions, but in spite of these a large number of residents and visitors attended. Over $450 was realized for veterans and community welfare.

At 2 p.m. the affair was opened by Mrs. Eileen Laurie, whose C.B.C. radio program, "Morning Visit" has made her a well known personality. She was presented with a corsage by Mrs. Wolfe-Milner and introduced by Dr. John Conway, who acted as master of ceremonies during the afternoon.

HOPES TO RETURN

Following the opening address, in which Mrs. Laurie spoke in glowing terms of Salt Spring Island, which she some day hopes to visit again, Dr. Conway called on Lieut.-Col. Crofton who, in the absence of the president of the Legion, Denis Baldwin, made the presentation to the most outstanding Cub. The Cubs stood in ring formation for the ceremony with Mrs. John Sturdy, formerly Cub mistress, substituting for Cubmaster D. H. Toms.

Col. Crofton spoke to the boys and expressed his pleasure in presenting the Aves trophy to Bobby Morris for leadership, sportsmanship, obedience and all-round efficiency.

Amusement greeted the fancy dress parade, for which the costumes were judged by Mrs. Laurie and Dr. Conway, the first prize for the adult wearing the most original child costume going to Mrs. George Laundry for her impersonation of a baby-in-arms and the second to Mrs. T. A. Milner as a "Miss in a private school".

Winners in the children's competition were: 1, Brian Wolfe-Milner (Eskimo); 2, Janice Booth (old lady).

A stall of home cooking was presided over by Mrs. H. T. Minchin with Mrs. A. E. Roddis and Mrs. P. E. Lowther assisting; Mrs. Howard Deyell, with Mrs. Frank Sharpe and Mrs. Ernie Booth assisting, was responsible for the white elephants; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Greenough took over the sale of ice cream, soft drinks, candy and cigar.
